(By the Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Thirty-five alleged members of the Ku Klux Klan were freed today, a jury which tried them on felony charges growing out of the Inglewood raid of April 22, last, having acquitted them last night after a little more than three hours of actual deliberation, although it had been out five hours and ten minutes.

A night raid by masked men at Inglewood, a suburb of Los Angeles on April 22, 1922, resulting in the slaying of one raider and the wounding of two others, was followed by an investigation in which the first definite charges were made that the Ku Klux Klan of the present day is engaged in deeds of violence. Forty-three persons were indicted by the Los Angeles county grand jury for false imprisonment, kidnapping and assault with intent to commit murder in connection with the raid.

Officials Named
Thirty-seven of the accused were mentioned by name and six, unidentified at the time, as "John Does." Those named included William S. Coburn, Grand Goblin of the Pacific Domain of the Ku Klux Klan; G. W. Price, King Kleagle of the Klan for the state of California; and Nathan A. Baker, Kleagle, or organizer, for Los Angeles county.

The victims of the raid were Fidel and Mathias Elduayen, brothers, proprietors of a winery near Inglewood, operating under federal license. A crowd of men estimated as numbering from 50 to 150 entered the Elduayen place, bound the brothers and carried them to the Inglewood city jail and asked to have them locked up as "boot-leggers." The jailer refused. The Elduayens were then carried to Redondo Beach, ten miles away, and a similar attempt was made at the lockup there, with the same result.

Marshal Is Halted
While raiders were surrounding the Elduayen place, Frant T. Woerner, deputy city marshal of Inglewood, rode up in a motorcycle and was ordered to halt by one of the group of masked men who were guarding the highway. The deputy displayed his badge, whereupon, he testified later, several revolvers were leveled at him. He drew his own weapon and fired into the crowd, three men falling. Woerner continued firing until his ammunition was exhausted, then returned to the Inglewood police station for more. When he got back to the scene of the raid the crowd had dispersed.

The three men shot by Woerner were carried into the town where they were found to be M. B. Noshier, Inglewood constable; Walter E. Noshier, his son and Leonard Ruegg, a deputy constable. The elder Noshier died about an hour after he was shot.

Meanwhile the Elduayens had been set free several miles from their home.

Candidates Identified.
An inquest was held three days after the raid, in an Inglewood undertaking establishment. Blake E. Shambou, a traffic officer, testified that the raid had been organized the night of April 21, in the same room where the inquest was being held, and that at the same meeting candidates for admission to the Ku Klux Klan had been identified by Baker. He and the other witnesses said Baker led the raiders in the attack upon the Elduayens. Coburn testified he was in Inglewood that night, declaring he went there because he heard there was some kind of trouble, and he wanted to make sure no Klansmen were mixed up in it.

A few days after the inquest a squad of deputy sheriffs, equipped with search warrants, entered Coburn's office and seized all documents relating to the Ku Klux Klan. Later District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine declared the documents contained "conclusive evidence" that the Klan was officially concerned with the Inglewood raid and with other acts of violence in its "Pacific Domain."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The federal administration was preparing to bring the anthracite coal and rail strike situations to an orderly culmination today, with federal operation of the mines and the railroads under consideration, should that become necessary to protect the public welfare.

After a conference last night between President Harding, Chairman Cummins of the senate interstate commerce committee, and Attorney General Daugherty, Senator Cummins declared that the anthracite operators and miners would be given one more opportunity to settle their differences before he would introduce a bill authorizing the federal operation of the mines and that the railroads likewise would be given a "reasonable time to demonstrate their ability to furnish adequate service and that those failing would be taken over." He was confident that congress would speedily enact legislation for both purposes.

Whitakers Are Back From Long Tour in West Coast States

William L. Whitaker and family have returned to Ada after a trip of forty-two days through the great west. They went from Ada through Colorado, and stopped at Cheyenne, Wyo., for the great Round-Up. Leaving there, they went through the Yellowstone park, camping and taking plenty of time to fish and see wonders of that park. Leaving there, they went through several other states, including Idaho where they saw Mr. and Mrs. Ed Weatherington. They then came down thru Utah, stopped at Salt Lake City and took a swim in Salt Lake. Mr. Whitaker vouches for the fact that one cannot sink in that water.

They crossed the continental divide by way of Leadville and into Colorado Springs. At the last stop they encountered many Ada citizens. They return by way of Oklahoma City and the Asher Bridge.

The worst road on the entire trip, Mr. Whitaker says, is between Stratford and Oklahoma City. Most of the roads in the mountains are good and fast time can be made.

Sulphur Dedicates Veterans' Hospital In Public Service

(By the Associated Press)
SULPHUR, Aug. 26.—The soldiers' tubercular sanatorium here, built by the state and recently completed, is the center of interest here today. The Oklahoma Department, American Legion, executive committee is in charge of the opening program.

Gov. J. B. A. Robertson is scheduled to be one of the speakers, and Hughes B. Davis, of Duncan, state legion commander, is also on the program. The opening is under the auspices of the Platt National Park Post 148 of the Legion.

After the program at the building, which stands just across the street from the Platt National Park entrance, guests of the local post will go to a fish roast in the park. There is to be a dance in the evening.

The tubercular sanatorium here was built by the soldiers' relief committee of the state out of funds appropriated by the last legislature. Under the provision of the appropriation bill federal government inspectors will visit the hospital shortly, it has been announced, with the expectation that the institution will be taken over by the national hospitalization board and operated for ex-soldiers exclusively.

Tribal Enrollment In Schools To Run Over Old Figure

(By the Associated Press)
MUSKOGEE, Aug. 26.—Enrollment of Indian students, members of the five civilized tribes, in tribal and governmental schools will be the biggest in history, this fall, according to an announcement today by C. H. Calhoun, supervisor of schools for the five tribes. Today 1,156 enrollments have been approved by the supervisor. On August 31 a special car carrying Indian students will leave here for Haskell Institute, Lawrence, Kas., and on the same day 280 Indian students will leave here for Chillico.

Illinois Miners Go Back to Work

The great coal strike of 1922 is over. The Illinois miners, following the lead of their Ohio brethren, signed a peace agreement with the Illinois operators and have returned to work. The agreement signed by the Illinois miners was the same as that signed at Cleveland.

Bunco Men Fleece Tourists of Vast Sums Says Report

ATLANTA, Aug. 26.—Following receipt here of information reporting the arrest of thirty-three alleged bunco men in Denver, Colo., who are said to have fleeced tourists out of $1,600,000, a representative of John Nolen, solicitor general of Fulton county, was en route to Denver today with photographs and detailed descriptions of thirty-five confidence men wanted here for bunco operations in 1920.

Atlanta authorities have expressed their confidence that some of the men wanted here were among those arrested in Denver.

LOCAL DEMOLAY WORK IS AGAIN GIVEN NEW DATE

At a meeting of Ada Chapter of the DeMolay last night, officers approved and appointed by those in charge were given instructions as to their duties and plans were laid for starting work. It is expected that within a few weeks the local chapter will be able to proceed with the degrees.

Not enough members for a quorum were present as many were out of town, but several matters were disposed of. Paraphernalia will be ordered immediately, it was said, and the local boys who were accepted into the McAlester chapter several months ago will get their transfers.

The next meeting of the organization will be held on Friday evening, September 8, and if possible, first degree work will be given. Interest is growing in the work and those in charge of the opinion that it will be well under way by the time school starts.

FURTHER DISCOMFORTS TO TRAMP TRAVELERS

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—The modern method of "taking water on the run" by fast passenger trains from troughs between the tracks, now in vogue on most of the larger lines, is a great aid to transportation but is a great discomfort to the tramp traveler.

Cases of extreme discomfort and, in some cases, actual suffering by the "bling baggage" traveler are related in a recent issue of the Pennsylvania News, publication of the Pennsylvania lines.

"The water pouring over the tender top will soak the stray warfarer from head to foot and my possibly sweep him off," the article states. "One tramp, knocked unconscious by such removal from the train, upon regaining consciousness, thought the locomotive had run into the river."

"On extremely cold nights the victims have been frozen. The 'regulars' in the hobo world know where the track troughs are located and crawl up on the coal pile to avoid being soaked. One such passenger unexpectedly immersed, opened a mail car door and rushed into it seeking protection and the water followed, doing considerable damage to the contents."

"Not long ago another gentleman of perpetual leisure who had suffered his first bath in years through ignorance of the track tanks' existence, when picked up by the water station engineer recounted an unfortunate episode with an engineer in Montana who, one night, when the thermometer descended to new low levels, turned the hose on him when he refused to jump off the tender and by the time the train reached the next town, was a solid mass of ice."

FACTIONS SETTLE DOWN FOR FIGHT

"We'll Scrap It Out to the Bitter End," Chiefs of Labor Declare.

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—With the peace efforts launched by the big five brotherhood chiefs definitely abandoned railroad executives and shopcraft leaders today realigned their forces for a finished fight in which both sides predict an early victory.

"We are going home to start the real fight, whether it lasts for three weeks or three months," declared W. F. Ryan, president of the carmen's national brotherhood as he prepared to leave for Kansas City to direct activities of his branch of the shopcrafts.

"Our organizations have plenty of funds to conduct a long fight and our men are willing to make the necessary sacrifices for a decisive victory," he added.

GIRL SQUANDERS WEALTH ON DOPE

"I Don't Know Where the Money Came From" She Tells Officers.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Federal narcotic agents were confronted today with the mystery of Mabel Howard Rockwell Schaffer, beautifully and expensively gowned captive seized last night in a raid on sordid dope den of a negro.

An enigma to her captors, her husband and apparently even to herself, the girl told an amazing story of her dissipation of a fortune on drugs, a fortune the source of which she did not know.

"Where does the money come from?"

"I don't know," she said. "It just comes—then it goes—most of it for coke."

"I've spent $7,000 since the first of the year—most of it for drugs," the girl of mystery said, asserting that all she knows of herself is that she is heiress to an English estate.

Her husband, an army field clerk, told of their marriage last January after a courtship of a few weeks. They lived for a time in an expensive apartment, he said, but separated when he learned of her addiction to drugs and her companionship with other men.

"I know nothing of Mabel's history except that she came here from Lexington, Mo." Mr. Schaffer said.

WESTERN UNION CABLE OPENED FOR BUSINESS

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The Miami-Barbadoes cable of the Western Union Telegraph company, was opened for business today after its use as a direct line of communication between North and South America had been blocked for more than eight months by a controversy between the company and the United States government.

Disguised Man's Desire To Smoke Leads To Arrest

ABERDEEN, Miss., Aug. 26.—A request from a federal prohibition officer led to the arrest of Will Otkinson at Kosciusko, Miss., yesterday. He is now in jail charged with assault and battery with intent to kill in connection with a raid made by prohibition officers.

Officers learned that the man, who escaped after a raid in which J. P. Owens, federal dry agent, was seriously injured, was in a house at Kosciusko. A search of the residence showed only an old man and a "woman."

As officers were leaving one of them lit a cigarette and the "woman" asked for one. It was Atkinson.

DEAVER BOSSES CITY COURT IN MAYOR'S PLACE

Acting Municipal Judge Charley Deaver held his first session of court at the city hall this morning, four cases being brought before him. In the absence of Mayor W. H. Fisher, who is not in his office this week on account of the death Wednesday night of his wife, Mr. Deaver is attending to city cases.

Two charges of consorting were tried, a fine of $14.75 being assessed in one and $8.75 in the other. One vagrancy case was up and disposed of, the defendant being given $8.75 worth of street work.

A charge of disturbing the peace against a woman who is alleged to have bothered her neighbors in one of the residence districts Friday evening, was transferred to the county. Several other cases of vagrancy were to come up this afternoon.

This is the first time since the new administration went into office that Mr. Deaver has been called on to serve in a judicial role. He was assisted by Chief of Police Wick Adair and City Attorney L. H. Harrell.

ANTI-PROFITEER SCHEME BLOCKED IN SENATE BODY

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Action on the administration bill designed to prevent profiteering in coal thru extension of the powers of the interstate commerce commission and creation of a federal fuel distribution agency, was blocked today in the senate interstate commerce committee and the whole subject went over to Monday.

Chairman Cummins of the committee who introduced the measure, declined to discuss the situation in the committee but Senator Pomerehne, democrat, Ohio, declared several members were insistent on having hearings and that he was confident both mine owners and workers would be given an opportunity to express their views on the proposal before there was final action.

McCarty Adds New Tire.
McCarty brothers, who for some time have been in the tire and vulcanizing business here, have closed a contract with the Barney Oldfield Tire company of Akron, Ohio, for the distribution and sale of "Oldfield Cord and Fabric tires."

The same fundamental elements of up-to-date cord tire construction are embodied in the manufacture of these tires as in making those used in Oldfield's famous racing events, according to McCarty.

FORD PLANTS TO CLOSE FOR FUEL

50,000 Laborers in Three Plants Affected By Coal Shortage.

(By the Associated Press)
DETROIT, Aug. 26.—The Ford Motor company plants at Highland Park, Dearborn, and River Rouge, suburbs, will close down September 16, because of lack of coal, it was announced today by Henry Ford. The suspension will affect more than 50,000 men in the three plants and indirectly several hundred thousands throughout the country.

Assembling plants of the Ford company throughout the country will be closed, it was stated, bringing the number of stricken employees affected by the suspension to approximately 85,000. Others affected are employees of concerns dependent upon Ford orders.

Concerns that supply the Ford company with materials were notified today to stop shipments.

Asked when he hoped the plants could resume operations, Mr. Ford declared he had not the remotest idea. "The coal situation has become impossible," Mr. Ford declared.

Permission Sought To Junk El Reno Guthrie Railroad

EL RENO, Aug. 26.—Asking for permission to dismantle and junk the St. Louis, El Reno & Western railway, operating between El Reno and Guthrie, the Illinois Trust company and Lewis R. Tume filed a petition with the state corporation commission last week, which may mean the doom of the miniature railway system. In the petition the company recites the fact that the road has never paid a profit, and is now deeply involved.

The St. Louis, El Reno & Western comprises about 46 miles of main line and switch tracks, and has a small amount of rolling stock. About a year ago E. K. Humphrey, manager of the El Reno Mill & Elevator company, was appointed as receiver and general manager and an effort was made to place the line on a paying basis. Only three trains per week have been operated for some time, and on August 15, this service was discontinued, necessitated by the fact that the engines and cars were in a bad state of repair due to the strike.

While the hearing on the junking of the road will be taken up by the corporation commission on August 30, local officials of the road state that service will be continued for some time. At present a section men's motor attached to trailers is furnishing transportation for mail, while beginning with September 1, a motor truck will be fitted to the tracks to haul loads up to a part of a car load.

The continuation of the road is considered very desirable to the citizens of Richland and Piedmont, since it offers the only outlet possible for large shipments.

Mayfield-Ferguson Campaign Results Now Up to Voters

(By the Associated Press)
DALLAS, Aug. 26.—Democrats seeking nomination for public office in Texas have had their say. Today the voters are passing judgment at the polls in the final or run-off primary. More than 600,000 votes were cast at the first primary July 22.

Candidates for nomination for the United States senate, for congress in two districts and for three state offices, submitted their names in the run-off.

The greatest interest is attached to the senate contest between Earl B. Mayfield, a state railroad commissioner, and James Ferguson, former governor.

Houston Vote Is Light.
HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 26.—Voting in this city before the noon hour in the run-off primary was in a smaller vote than was polled in the first primary. Early counts from some of the city precincts showed that Ferguson gained considerable strength since the first primary in the senatorial race.

FREQUENT BOMB PLOTS STRIKING FEAR TO NATION

Ninth Week Leaves Strike
With No Indication of Improvement.

MANY TRAINS GO OFF

Service Is Suspended As Peril To Passengers
Grows Steadily.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—The ninth week of the railroad strike began today with peace negotiations collapsed, President Harding considering steps to place certain roads and the anthracite coal mines under federal control and with train wrecks and further trouble with train crews, notably on the Chicago and Alton.

Walkouts on the C. and A. followed explosions at Roodhouse, Ill., operating crews and Roodhouse and Slater, Mo., refusing to turn a wheel. Reports of the Roodhouse explosion were at variance but all agreed that disturbances had occurred.

Mobile and Ohio railroad officials were investigating last night's wreck of a passenger train at Whistler, Ala., in which several persons were injured. The engine and seven coaches left the rails when the train hit a half open switch. Officials, following an investigation, declared the switch was thrown open half way and locked in a deliberate attempt to wreck the train.

The fifth dynamite attempt in two days on the Atlantic Coast Line railroad occurred at Fisler near Jacksonville, Fla., where an attempt was made to blow up a bridge.

BOMB EXPLOSION RENEWS OUTBREAK

(By the Associated Press)
SHAWNEE, Aug. 26.—Explosion of a bomb about 100 feet from a fence surrounding the roundhouse of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad early this morning marked the first outward sign of disorders in the rail strike situation here since a week ago when a volley of shots were fired into the roundhouse, presumably by striking workmen.

STRANDED PASSENGERS TAKEN OFF BY AUTOS

(By the Associated Press)
ROODHOUSE, Ill., Aug. 26.—Preparations were being made to convey stranded passengers of the Chicago and Alton from this point to their destinations or to another road by automobile this morning, following the walkout last night of twenty clerks and the refusal of trainmen to operate trains because of "unsafe conditions" on the road. All railroad traffic this morning was at a standstill.

STRIKE BREAKERS HURRY AWAY FROM MCALISTER

(By the Associated Press)
MCALISTER, Aug. 26.—Three strike breakers employed in the local yards of the M. K. & T. departed Saturday as the result of warnings and the fact that two of the trio were taken from a local street car the night before by a masked man, and beaten by waiting committeemen. Five others passengers on the car, were unmolested by the gunman.

LITTLE DAMAGE COMES FROM TWO LOCAL FIRES

Little damage resulted from two fires here last night. The home of a negro named Johnson, at Sixth and Rennie, was slightly damaged when fire broke out about 8:30. Firemen quickly extinguished the blaze.

About twelve o'clock another alarm was turned in when the Dunn Filling Station at Twelfth and Stockton caught fire. Little damage was done as the blaze did not get beyond control.

CHINA'S FIRST RAILWAY STRIKE FAVORS LABORERS

(By the Associated Press)
PEKING, Aug. 26.—China's first extensive railroad strike which recently tied-up traffic on the Peking-Konkow line, has been won by the strikers, according to an announcement here today. Among other demands of the workers granted by the railroad, is an increase in wages of ten cents a week.

BIBLE THOUGHT OF TODAY

THE CHRISTIAN'S MISSION:—Preach, saying, The Kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils, freely we have received, freely give. —Matthew 10:7, 8.

FORBEARANCE AND PLUCK DID IT

The July review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City chronicles an encouraging summary of improvement in general business conditions throughout the country. "And in no other geographical division of the country," the report reads, "has this improvement been more pronounced, or has better progress been made toward a return to normal, healthy and prosperous conditions, than in the great Southwest country whose basic industries of agriculture, live stock growing, petroleum production, metal and coal mining, supply a very large proportion of this nation's and the world's necessities. Evidences of changed conditions that have come in the last six months are to be seen everywhere at this time when the country is entering upon the second half of the year."

There are only two unfavorable factors to mar a record of remarkable progress toward more stable industrial conditions. They are the strikes among the miners and railroad men.

The bank verifies previous reports from different sources that farming and livestock interests, which suffered great losses through depreciation in 1920 and 1921, are occupying positions more favorable than they have been for many months. The farmers, according to the summary, "are reaping the reward of patient forbearance and pluck, are buying the things they need and once more are piling up deposits accounts in the banks."

"There is, it appears, a lot that can be accomplished by 'patient forbearance and pluck.' They are two weapons that should be employed more extensively in meeting the problems that are confronting the nation and the world. Europe does not need the services of a financial genius nor a series of economic conferences so much as she needs a share of the spirit of the farmer in the Southwest who weathered his face to the storm unflinchingly stuck it out. And had it not been for that spirit, there might have been gloomy reports in the July review of the Federal Reserve bank.—Kansas City Journal.

And now it is charged that British titles of nobility are being sold. These titles are supposed to go to persons in recognition of distinguished services to the state, but a little gold is said to come in handy when a man has enough vanity to be willing to pay being called "my lord." The late lamented expatriated American, Willie Wallie Astor, succeeded in getting a title after a few years residence in England, although it was never explained just what he had done to merit such recognition. His son now wears the proud title and holds in contempt everything American, except the cash he receives from his American holdings which he uses to maintain his position in the style he fancies. It is enough to make his thrifty ancestor, John Jacob Astor, turn in his grave to see the fortune he made in the fur trade and other pioneer ventures used to maintain a British lord.

The Fort Worth Record says that this is the year that scares prophets, particularly political prophets. The second primary is just starting and a whole lot of fur will be flying from now until the returns are in. The Record goes on to say that the rows in the Democratic camp are encouraging the Republicans to believe that at last it may be possible to carry the state and that they are coming out of hibernating quarters with a hunger keen from having been away from the pie counter so long and ready to give the Democratic nominees a tussle in November. While the Republicans are only having a pipe dream their waking up will be a rather interesting event.

When a man begins to feel chesty it is very well to read Gulliver's Travels again. To Gulliver the wars and differences of the Lilliputians, the little race who were only six inches in height, were highly amusing, as the seriousness with which these little folks took themselves. To the race of giants sixty feet in stature whom he visited later, Gulliver was a very insignificant atom and his troubles appeared as nothing to them. It is largely a matter of viewpoint.

The returns from the Democratic election are too meagre at this time to determine the nominee, though later returns in this paper may indicate who is to be the standard bearer of the Democratic party this fall. It is certain that Fields will lead the Republicans. Regardless of the nominee of the Democrats, the campaign for the November election promises to be hot and bitter.

Getting all the returns available up to 3 o'clock this morning and issuing an extra in the early morning hours is only an example of the efforts the Ada News is putting forth to give the citizens of this section a metropolitan newspaper. We believe there are few communities in the state which got better service than that rendered by the News.

MAYBE HE'S JUST TRYING TO REVIVE THE OLD MAN

The Forum of the Press

The "Wholesale Home Maker"
(Kansas City Journal)

A New York woman who has made $1,000,000 in rental property advances a peculiarly healthy philosophy in discussing her success, which seems to be largely due to the fact that she encourages large families by not discriminating against those with children.

"On the contrary," she says, "the more the merrier" is something of a motto with her. Her theory—which she claims to have verified in experience, that children do not damage property nearly so much as grown-ups, may be disputed by other rental agents and owners. But "nothing succeeds like success" and the bank account of this particular exponent of applied enlightenment in the matter of keeping up the birth rate is concerned.

That word, however, would mean nothing were it not for the underlying principles involved.

"What we need in real estate," says this woman, "is more women. They would never put the taboo on babies, as men do. A woman naturally takes the human, the motherly, viewpoint. She understands that homes are made primarily to shelter families, not to house a childless couple and a toy dog."

"Woman has been traditionally a home-maker—a retail home-maker. Why shouldn't she make a part business in the future to be a home-maker by wholesale—developing and marketing real estate, and so making two homes grow where one grew before."

The significance of this view is not discounted by the fact that the holder is herself unmarried. She is doing vastly more as a "wholesale home-maker" than is being done by any individual "retail home-maker," or by a large number of them.

There are many landlords, scattered throughout the country, who few of them, however, emulated her in refusing to profiteer during the war and the housing shortage period.

The problem as a whole revolves around her fine conception of the duty of all in a position to perform it—that of making homes by wholesale, thus relieving materially the "retail" situation.

"Wholesale home-makers" is an admirable phrase, multiplying the opportunities afforded by the individuals who have been helping to build the homes of the world during the centuries. In contrast with this splendid vision, the spectacle of unmarried women, satisfied with a home whose silence is broken only by the chatter of "society" and the barking of poodles, challenges contempt rather than resentment.

Lazy Voters

(The Searchlight)

The greatest danger to American institutions lies in apathy of conservative voters who, by failing to vote, allow a small minority to inflict its will on the majority of the people.

In many primary elections from 15 to 20 percent of the total registered voters choose candidates to go on ticket at general election. The same procedure takes place in regard to initiative measures placed on the ballot. Particularly is this true where unusual taxation measures come up at special elections, those who have pecuniary interest in the measure vote for it and thus a minority of registered voters will load a city, county or state government with a burden of debt which all must pay.

Every citizen should see that he is properly registered and go to the elections and vote. It is a matter not only of good citizenship but as a business proposition. The average business man would be most indignant if the charge were made that he allowed third parties to contract debts in his name and then object to paying them. What is the difference if a business man allows himself to be loaded with a burden of tax debt simply through his negligence or laziness in failing to go to the polls and fulfill his duty as a citizen in voting for sound men and measures?

Rough Riding

(Bartlesville Examiner)
Do you remember, back in childhood when you played with a hoop, how the hoop bent into an egg-shape when you leaned your weight on it?

The same thing happens to wheels—including those of autos—despite the air cushion in the tires.

Common or garden variety of wheels are not round, as is generally supposed according to engineer's recent discoveries. Wheels may start out round, but they increasingly develop slightly elliptical shape faintly resembling an egg viewed lengthwise.

You have noticed this on street cars cursed with flat wheels in their old age.

More vividly you have noticed it when riding in an old auto that bump-bumps in defiance of tires and shock absorbers.

As the auto wheel carries you along, slightly flattened by the weight it supports, it naturally strikes "hammer blows" on the pavement as it revolves.

This is tough on the passenger. But it is tougher on the pavement.

The effect is about the same as if an army of men were pounding the roadbed constantly with sledge-hammers.

This, along with heavy trucks is usually why our pavements go to pieces so rapidly.

The obvious solution, or at least mediation, is getting pavement with sufficient elasticity. Sand under the concrete works that way. So does asphalt on top.

British engineers are experimenting with a rubber pavement. That, however, probably would be too expensive. And there is not enough rubber.

The greatest American waste is in road making. The waste used to be mostly in the form of graft. Now it's largely in paying unscientifically.

Taxpayers put up fabulous fortunes for pavements that often begin going to pieces as soon as they are laid.

The problem of good roads is not so much mileage of pavement as quality of pavement. It's a tremendous field for engineers and inventors. Young man, this may be your Big Opportunity.

put it quietly aside. She believed he was going; when they reached the station she pleaded with him and was refused. As he put her aboard the train and it moved out, leaving him on the platform, she burst out crying. Bell dashed after her and sprang aboard the train, without baggage, ticket or any other trinkets.

The next Sunday afternoon Bell was promised an inspection of his invention by the judges of exhibits. It was a hot day and the judges had seen a great deal. Some of them were for going home; one jeered, there was a general boredom. Then there appeared the blonde-bearded Emperor of Brazil, with outstretched hands. He had heard some of Bell's lectures in Boston; the deaf-mute work appealed to him. His greeting made a stir. Bell made ready for his demonstration. A wire had been strung the length of the room. Bell took the transmitter; Den Pedro placed the receiver to his ear. He started up amazed.

BILIOUS CHILDREN
Black-Draught, Long in Successful Use, Praised by an Arkansas Mother, "Soon Does Its Work."

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Theodor's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says:

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system.

In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles.

Its well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words, "Theodor's Black-Draught." NO. 141 ceived his patent. It was at the Centennial Exposition held at Philadelphia, two months later, where men of science the world over who had come to examine and study the numerous inventions exhibited, saw Prof. Bell give a practical demonstration of the transmission of the human voice by electricity.

As for Bell himself, he had not planned to attend the Centennial at all. He was poor and had reorganized his classes in vocal speech. Toward the end of June he went to the station to see Miss Hubbard off for Philadelphia. There had been some talk of his going, but he had

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
THE WINDOWS OF HEAVEN—Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of Hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.—Malachi 3:10.

The murder of Michael Collins, Irish leader, is another hard blow to the people of his distracted country. There was never a time when the people of Ireland was in greater need of cool headed leaders than now but the death of Griffith and assassination of Collins have removed the two outstanding figures in the movement to create a new Ireland. These two leaders realized what every thinking man must know that England had made every concession she was going to make, and that there was no possible hope of winning independence by means of armed force. Assassination never helped a cause and Ireland is fast approaching the point where British intervention will destroy the freedom gained in the treaty with the English government. If the free state government cannot restore order it is certain that England will.

Luther Harrison expresses deep regret that his native state of Mississippi which in her best days sent to the senate such mental giants as Lamar, Jefferson Davis, George and Walthall is now to choose between two men of meagre ability. However, Mississippi is no worse off than many other states. Alabama no longer has a Yancey or Morgan to represent her. Instead of an Alexander H. Stephens or John B. Gordon, Georgia has Tom Watson. Kentucky has not in years had a man of the type of John G. Carlisle, Missouri a Vest and Cockrell or Indiana a Thomas A. Hendricks. Go on down the list and it will be seen that either we have fewer mental giants in the senate than formerly or else the country does not place the proper estimate on the ability of the men now representing it.

It is easy to shed crocodile tears of sympathy for any class of citizenship but doing something to alleviate their condition is a different matter. It is like the case of the close-fisted old guy who prayed the Lord to send a needy widow some potatoes when he himself had several hundred bushels stored away. Just now the politicians in every state in the union are making a great to do about the condition of the farmers. It is only too true that the process of deflation has put them in a terrible plight but we have yet to read of a practical plan for their relief offered by any of these politicians. Better prices is what is needed but no one comes forward to volunteer to pay any more than he has to for farm products. Getting votes is what the politicians are after now.

The average life of a dollar bill is said to be ten months. In that time it changes hands so rapidly that the paper is so worn it has been destroyed and another printed to take its place. Granted that the bill will average changing hands twice a day, and that is fewer times than it actually does change hands, that means it will pay $300 worth of debts. In other words, if there are 10,000 dollar bills in Ada and they are kept at home and spent among home people, they will pay $3,000,000 worth of debts or do that much cash business.

Democrats of Idaho have nominated Moses Alexander as governor. After looking up the election results in that state for several years past, the Fort Worth Record expresses the opinion that the party evidently needs a Moses to lead it from the wilderness of defeat and an Alexander to conquer the Republican hosts that usually sweep the state.

We never rejoice in the misfortunes of others, but since the weather has cut short the corn crop of Texas it is pleasing to know that Pontotoc county can supply quite a good sized demand to regions less fortunate.

Japan is going to cut her army down, so she says. As the little island nation has had some 2,000,000 either arms or in reserves ready to be called out, she will probably not miss a hundred thousand or so very badly. With no hostile neighbors from which to fear trouble, the Japs might do considerable reducing to advantage.

Rube Geers remarks in the Tishomingo Capital-Democrat that in the good old days when a man reached for his hip pocket Rube smiled in fond anticipation, but in these days of "progressive democracy" when he sees such a gesture he jumps behind a tree. Times do change, don't they Rube?

The cool weather from Canada promised two days ago arrived as per schedule. Fortunately there is no tariff on Canadian weather, hence the cool wave was not held up at the border.

The Forum of the Press

Speed in Courts.
(Daily Ardmoreite)

The American Bar association, in convention assembled, has made many recommendations, doubtless all wise, looking towards judicial reform. Chief Justice Taft, whose world-wide reputation as a jurist suffers not at all from his able exposition of needed legal changes, has outlined through this association to the legal profession of the country, the things which he believes should be done to make our judicial system better.

All of which is well, very well, but perhaps not well enough. Did it ever occur to a lawyer, do you suppose, to ask a layman for his ideas of judicial reform?

It probably did not. The "legal mind" can not think as the layman thinks, and yet law is for the layman, justice is for the layman, courts are for the layman.

If you have a case of any sort it is put on a docket. When it is reached, you must be there to defend or prosecute it. If they say tomorrow and you come tomorrow, and bring 50 witnesses tomorrow, and court isn't ready for you, you wait. The witnesses wait. The judge must not wait. If courts ran to a schedule and the schedule ran out once in a while, and the court did nothing but hold its hands, more money would be saved than under the present rule, which is to keep the court busy, though hundreds of witnesses, lawyers, complainants, and defendants wait around and lose money.

If you are sued—and any one can sue you for anything whether you owe it or not—you must defend the suit. You must pay your lawyers, lawyers have to live. If it costs you a hundred, a thousand, or fifty thousand dollars, you must pay it. If you win the unjust suit, you are told you have justice; but your bank account doesn't show it.

What we need is not reform of the law from within, so much as reform from without; what the law needs in the layman's point of view, which is that speed and absence of expense are both parts of true justice; that no decision, no matter how correct, is truly just if it has cost much money and time to obtain.

To An Anxious Friend.
(Emporia (Kas.) Gazette)

You tell me that law is above freedom of utterance. And I reply that you can have no wise laws nor free enforcement of wise laws unless there is free expression of the wisdom of the people—and, alas, they folly with it. But if there is freedom, folly will die of its own poison, and the wisdom will survive. That is the history of the race. It is the proof of man's kinship with God. You say that freedom of utterance is not for time of stress, and I reply with the sad truth that only in time of stress is freedom of utterance in danger. No one questions it in calm days, because it is not needed. And the reverse is true also; only when free utterance is suppressed is it needed; and when it is needed it is most vital to justice. Peace is good. But if you are interested in peace through force and without free discussion decently and in order—your interest in justice is slight. And peace without justice is tyranny, no matter how you may sugar coat it with expediency. This state today is in more danger from suppression than from violence, because in the end suppression leads to violence. Violence, indeed, is the child of suppression. Whoever pleads for justice helps to keep the peace; and whoever tramples upon the plea for justice, temperately made in the name of peace, only outrages peace and kills something fine in the heart of man which God put there when we got our manhood. When that is killed, brute meets brute on each side of the line.

So dear friend, put fear out of your heart. This nation will survive, this state will prosper, the orderly business of life will go forward if only men can speak in whatever way given them to utter what their hearts hold—by voice, by posted card, by letter or by press. Reason never has failed men. Only force and repression have made the wrecks in the world.—William Allen White in the Emporia Gazette.

Hail the Woman!
(El Reno American)

Woman has been generally conceded to be the equal of man for the past decade. Members of the fair sex have been freely admitted and welcomed into the business world; they have been given the ballot, on the same footing with members of the other sex; they have been seen patronizing barber shops and cigarette merchants. But recently they have gone even further. Women have taken to wearing pants! Right in El Reno the spectacle has been observed.

Eighteen months ago rumors came out of the effete east to the effect that the modern maid, hampered by the skirts of her forbears, had taken to wearing "knicker" tailored trousers similar to those worn by small boys. Male inhabitants of the west and middle west merely smiled, confident of the fact that the idea would never prevail in the inland sections of the country. But time, the great leveler of all things, has proved them all wrong.

Last Thursday afternoon men on North Bickford glimpsed the phenomenon. They rubbed their eyes and looked again. They twisted their heads and strained their necks and invariably their faces became wreathed in smiles or grins, while some laughed aloud! The perpetrator of the act was a winsome miss of twenty-five, who wended her way through down town traffic as if totally oblivious to the glances and stares which came her way, leaving mere man gasping in surprise. Women in pants! Yea, verily, they are right here among us!

RETIRED OFFICERS INVITED TO AUSTRALIA

(By the Associated Press)

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 26.—The Commonwealth government is endeavoring to induce a large number of young military officers who have seen service in India and are being retired from the army to emigrate to Australia.

The subject was opened by a letter received by the Premier from General Lord Rawlinson, commander in chief in India, who pointed out that about 2,000 young officers will be returned soon. They will receive compensation ranging from one thousand to fifteen hundred pounds each and many desire to leave India. The premier assured Lord Rawlinson the Commonwealth would extend a hearty welcome to any officers who might come. He offered to send a representative to India to give information to those who are contemplating settling in the Dominion, or to pay the expenses of two representatives of the officers who would visit the Commonwealth.

Lord Rawlinson cabled, asking that the matter be brought before the state premiers in order that more particulars might be obtained. This is being done.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY NOMINATES WOMAN CANDIDATE

LONDON, Aug. 26.—That the political party which above all parties stands for the parliamentary candidates as a member of the social elect and a woman at that, may be regarded as one of the significant signs of the times. It is not because of any dearth of good parliamentary material among its own ranks and file that the Labor Party has adopted Miss Edith Picton-Turbervill as its candidate for North Islington at the next general election.

Miss Picton-Turbervill is the daughter of Colonel Picton-Turbervill of Ewenny Prior, Glamorgan, shire. Among the claims of long descent, there are few among the British aristocracy who can trace their lineage so far back as can Miss Picton-Turbervill and find such a notable beginning to it. One of her ancestors was Sir Richard Turbervill, one of the 12 knights of William the Conqueror who settled in Wales soon after the conquest.

Miss Picton-Turbervill is the author of "Christ and International Life" to which Lord Robert Cecil contributed a preface. Her social work abroad has given her almost international reputation. She spent some years in India on behalf of the Young Women's Christian Association, and travelled for it in America and other countries.

In stating her reasons for allying herself with the Labor Party, Miss Picton-Turbervill said: "The party has definite, practical program. Its policy is founded on Christian principles. It has been the chief champion of women's entry into politics."

If Miss Picton-Turbervill gets into Parliament she will not be on the same side as Lady Astor or Mrs. Wintringham.

"My politics are not the same as theirs," she said, "but I am sure that on all things affecting the welfare of women and children I would go further than they for the betterment of the working women. For example, I stand definitely for widow's pensions."

Wallace Reid in New Speed Picture

Woman Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Makes This Offer

Cumberland, Md.—"My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was between thirteen and fourteen years old and was going to school, because I suffered with pains and could not rest. I did not have any more trouble after that until I was married, then I always was troubled in my back while carrying a child and could not do my work until I took the Vegetable Compound. I am strong, do all my washing and ironing and work for seven children and feel fine. I always have an easy time at childbirth and what it did for me it will do for other women. I am willing to answer any woman if she will write asking what it did for me."

—Mrs. JOHN HEIER, 63 Dilley St., Cumberland, Md.

During girlhood and later during motherhood Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought relief to Mrs. Heier. Her case is but one of many we constantly publish recommending our Vegetable Compound. She is willing to answer your letter. Write to her.

Neun Is Challenger For Swatting Honor Of Southern League

Neun of Birmingham is the new challenger for batting honors of the Southern Association. In seven games he smashed out eleven hits, bringing his average up to .335 and forcing Lapan of Little Rock, the runner-up a week ago, into fourth place. Tucker of New Orleans moved into third place with an average of .333. Lapan is batting .331, while Schliebner of Little Rock, the pace setter, is showing the way with .341. The averages include games of Tuesday.

Joe Connolly, the Little Rock outfielder, who is going to the Cleveland Americans, is the leading extra base hitter of the league. He has connected with eleven homers, fifteen triples and twenty-seven doubles. Schulte and Niehoff of Mobile are next in line in home run hitting with ten each.

Other leading batters for ninety or more games: Henry, New Orleans .330; Connolly, Little Rock .322; Bernsen, Atlanta .318; Harper, Birmingham .318; Camp, Memphis .318; Huhn, Mobile .317; Niehoff, Mobile .309; Taylor, Birmingham .309.

Bynum-Meredith
A wedding of much surprise to friends of the contracting parties is that of Miss Willie Meredith, formerly of this city, to Harvey Bynum which was solemnized in Claremore August 16. Mrs. Bynum is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Meredith of this city.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in cut flowers and ferns. It was a quiet affair with only a few friends present. Rev. Howard Thompson, pastor of the Methodist church at Claremore, performed the ceremony, using an impressive ring service.

Mrs. Bynum is well known here, having lived in Ada a number of years with her parents before accepting the position as manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. plant at Claremore two years ago. Bynum is engaged in the restaurant business at that place. They will make their home at Claremore.

Misses Crumley Entertain.
Misses Jewell and Edith Crumley entertained with a slumber party at their home Friday night in honor of a small number of friends. After a line party at the picture show, the group returned to the home of their hostess where delightful refreshments of lemonade and sandwiches were served. This morning a swimming party at Ford's lake was enjoyed.

Besides the Misses Crumley those present at the swimming party today were Misses Nena Simerly, Daisy Hawkins, Sammie Bentley and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Bentley, Jr.

DROUGHT BROKEN TODAY BY GENEROUS DOWNPOUR

(By the Associated Press)
MUSKOGEE, Aug. 26.—A drought of two months came to an end in many sections of eastern Oklahoma early today when a generous rain set in. Farmers say the rain came just in time to assure corn and cotton production. In some instances a high wind leveled telephone and telegraph poles. Along the Frisco railroad it was reported that rain fell from Baxter, Kan., to Henryetta, Okla., and was moving southward from the latter city.

MILLION DOLLAR LOSS IN KENTUCKY STORMS

(By the Associated Press)

SPECTACULAR FIRE NEAR END HALTS TRAFFIC

(By the Associated Press)
ENID, Aug. 26.—A spectacular fire occurred at Hennessey Friday night according to reports received here Saturday. Walter's Mill caught fire from some unknown cause, the fire spreading to the supply tanks of the Pierce Oil corporation, located near the mill on the Rock Island right-of-way. The fire totally destroyed the mill and about 20,000 gallons of gasoline and coal oil, holding up passenger and freight service on the road for more than four hours.

USE OF CHOKE COIL AND TRANSFORMERS

Latter Provide the Most Practical Method of Coupling for the Amateur.

Figure XXVIII shows the actual circuit of a three-stage resistance coupled amplifier. The output of such a circuit is K times K times K the input or assuming the amplification factor of each tube to be 10, the output would be 1,000 times the input. The resistance R is the coupling resistance whose function it is to transform the plate current variation to potential drops to be applied to the grid of the next tube.

The capacity C is simply a means of allowing the potential variations across the coupling resistance R to be applied to the grid of the next tube, yet not allowing the "B" battery applied to the plate circuit of a tube to be applied to the grid of the next. Because of using the condenser to what one might say, insulate the grid from the "B" battery potential, it is necessary to use a grid leak, to keep the charge which collects on the grid from becoming excessive and reducing the plate current to zero.

One of the chief disadvantages of the resistance coupled amplifier is that very high plate battery potenassigned for maximum power amplification, while at the same time the ratio of the transformer must be such as to deliver maximum potential to the grid circuit of the next tube.

The greatest advantages of the transformer method of coupling audio frequency amplifiers are the high degree of amplification, the relative simplicity of operation, and the low plate voltage required.

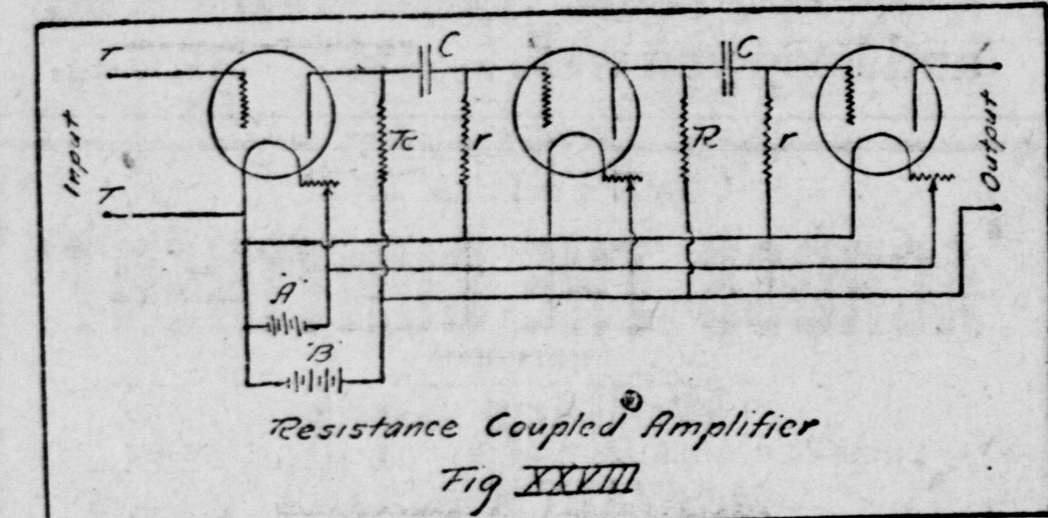

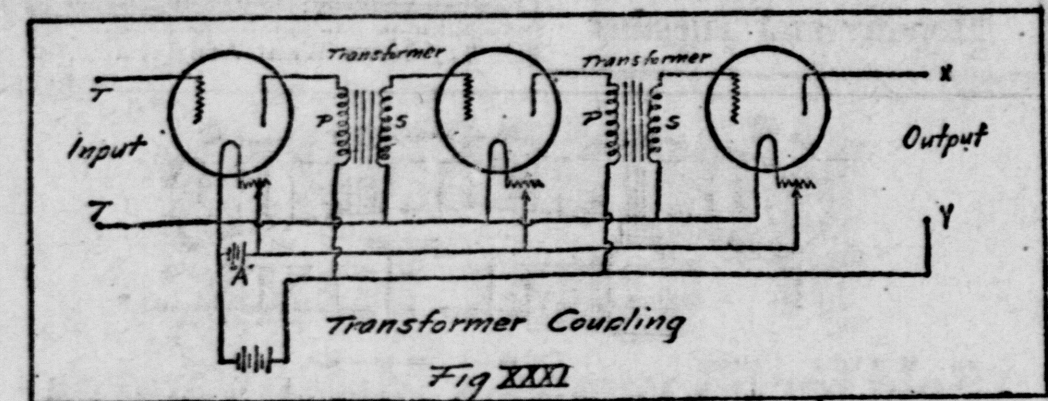

Chief among the disadvantages of the transformer coupled frequency amplifier is noise. Also the transformers amplify different frequencies to different degrees, which means that when this type of coupling is used for radiophone reception, the voice is distorted by the amplifying transformers. However, from a practical standpoint, the average amateur will have better results using transformer coupled audio frequency amplifiers than from any other method that can be used with the tubes and equipment now available.

GREAT BRITAIN VS. AMERICA

Radio Amateurs of Those Countries Pursuing Distinct Courses in Development of Receivers.

Two separate and distinct courses are being followed by the radio amateurs of this country and Great Britain in the development of receiving apparatus for continuous-wave telegraphy and wireless telephony. Both courses are of the utmost importance to the art, and each will exert a great influence on the future of radio communication and entertainment.

The American amateurs have gone along the lines of regeneration and amplification of audible signals, as well as development of long-distance tials are necessary. The amplification per tube of a resistance-coupled amplifier is not as high as it is for some other methods but it is stable and does not distort the input as much as do some other methods used which give greater amplification per tube.

Resistance-coupled amplifying may be used to amplify either radio or audio frequency.

A method of transforming the change in plate current of a vacuum tube to differences in potential is by means of a choke coil. A choke coil consists of a number of turns of wire wound up in a multipayer coil and may or may not have an iron core. A coil of this kind offers a high impedance to the flow of alternating current, but has a relatively low direct current resistance.

The choke coil on account of having a low ohmic resistance, will have a smaller method of coupling, so that lower "B" battery potential can be used on choke coil coupled amplifiers and the batteries can be of smaller capacity.

The choke coil not only has inductance but a certain amount of distributed capacity. The distributed capacity of the coil plus the capacity of the plate with respect to the filament, together with the inductance of the coil, give to the plate circuit a certain definite period. That is, the plate circuit is an oscillating circuit whose resonant frequency is determined by the total capacity and inductance in the circuit.

If the choke coil be made variable, it will not only serve to transform the plate current variation with maximum plate potential variations, but it will also serve to tune out unwanted frequencies. When the plate circuit of the amplifier is tuned, the resonant frequency is amplified K times, but all other frequencies are amplified to a lesser degree.

Another and by far the most widely used method of coupling successive tubes in a cascade amplifier is by means of transformers. The transformer method of coupling amplifier tubes may be considered a development and a refinement of the simpler choke coil method. Coupling tubes by means of properly designed transformers will give a greater amplification per tube than any of the other methods.

Figure XXXI shows the diagram of a three-stage transformer coupled amplifier, where P and S are respectively the primaries and secondaries of the coupling transformers. The transformer as a whole is so designed as to convert the plate current variations into maximum potential variations. The plate circuit of each tube which includes the primary winding of a coupling transformer must be reception on short waves by the super heterodyne principle.

On the other side of the Atlantic the British amateurs, restricted in their hobby by ultra-conservative government regulations, have turned their attention solely to radio-frequency amplification. This has given excellent results on all long and medium wave lengths, but its success on shorter wave lengths has depended solely upon the expert handling of the operator, who has been compelled to use tuned coupling circuits between each of the radio-frequency vacuum tubes.

It is too early yet to tell which of the two systems will ultimately triumph, but there is no doubt that the laurels at the present moment rest upon the American amateurs through the latest achievement of their leader, Armstrong, in the production of the super-regenerative system.

SHORT FLASHES

The enormous popularity of radio has started out a new crop of solicitors offering the stock of fake companies, with alleged glittering prospects. A general warning is being broadcast for fans to be on the lookout for these smooth gentlemen.

A young radio sharp at Ogdensburg, N. Y., recently heard through his set: "Come home with the car, Howard; I have to go to the store." Who can say that a set in the pasture will not soon call the cows at milking time: "Come bos!"

In making a regenerative set employing two variometers and a variocoupler be careful not to get the instruments too close together. If they are, the set will howl. A set of this type should be mounted in a box not less than sixteen inches long.

Dr. John J. Carty, often referred to as "the wizard of the telephone," has had added to his many complimentary college degrees that of doctor of science, Yale university. Doctor Carty, who ranks as a brigadier general in the signal corps reserve, U. S. A., was given this last honor for being a radio expert.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle predicts communication with the dead by radio within four years. Sir Arthur is firm in the belief that within that time "we will have the direct communication that Edison hoped for" and that those who have passed beyond will "have transmitters in the line of ether and all that we will need will be the receiver."

RUTH'S CHALLENGE SOUNDS LIKE REAL THREAT TO RIVALS

Home Run King Promising Now To Make Good His Boast Last May.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Way back when his home run total was expressed in only a single figure—and when suspensions, fines, and bleacher hootings were more of a daily occurrence than a four base hit—Babe Ruth said the 1922 season would end with him the champion home run hitter of the major leagues.

In those days, back in May, Babe and Mrs. Ruth seemed to be about the only people in the United States confident of Ruth's comeback. Today, Ruth's challenge to Ken Williams of St. Louis, whose home run hitting at the start of the season was a sensation, and Tilly Walker of the Athletics, has begun to sound like the real thing.

Ruth, with the close of the season a little more than a month away, has twenty-six homers to his credit, Williams thirty-two and Walker thirty. The Bambino smashed out four this week, while the best Williams could do was a pair. Walker, however, connected with three. Ruth, if he continues his present pace, will make good his prediction in the judgment of baseball critics.

Veterans Chase Sisler. The race in American League for batting honors continues to be a merry one with the veterans battling to overcome George Sisler, of St. Louis, who is showing the way with an average of .413. Ty Cobb, pilot of the Tigers is trailing Sisler with .400, and Tris Speaker, leader of the Indians is next with .370. The remarkable slugging of Harry Heilmann of Detroit the past week had placed him among .353. The averages include Wednesday's contests.

Hauser? Connie Mack's first sacker, although he has played in only seventy-five games, made a wonderful showing during the past week. From a position down about twentieth in the list, Hauser boosted his average from .321 to .35 by making seventeen hits in his last eight games.

Sisler added three more bases to his string of thefts and continues to set the pace for the base stealers with forty, his closest rival being Williams, his teammate, who has thirty-two.

Other leading batters participating in ninety or more games—Tobin, St. Louis, .336; Williams, St. Louis, .335; Schang, New York, .333; Galloway, Philadelphia, .330; Blue, Detroit, .330; Bassler, Detroit, .329.

ADA NINE READY FOR HARD SCRAP WITH HEALDTON

Following a stiff work-out Friday afternoon, the Ada Independents are ready for the game tomorrow which will be one of the deciding factors in the race for state championship. If they win Sunday's game with Healdton here, no team in the state will have a better bid for the state amateur championship than the local club.

Manager Green said today he had been giving his men extensive batting practice, this work being their weakest point. He believes they will be in the best form tomorrow and is confident of winning the game. Lefty Williams and Paul Waner will compose the pitching staff to face the visiting team.

The game will be played at Fair Grounds Park beginning at 3.30. Fans here are of the opinion that it will be the best game of the season.

Girl Swimmer Goes 9 Miles Without a Rest in Lake Test

BENZONIA, Mich.—Swimming without pause for eight and three-quarters hours, Miss Genevieve Rowe, 17, of Hillsdale, Mich., swam the entire length of Crystal Lake, near here, a distance of nine miles. Miss Rowe did not leave the water even to eat. Her only food was raisins which were handed to her by persons who accompanied her in a boat. Miss Rowe took the raisins with one hand, used the other in swimming. She did not rest by floating.

"You see, I don't float, anyway," she explained afterwards with a smile. "I have swum ever since I was eight years old."

Miss Rowe is attending a girl's summer camp here. She danced in a pageant which the girls of the camp presented before the Congressional Summer Assembly at Frankfort, near Crystal Lake.

Hornsby Widening Margin Over Other National Bat Kings

(By the Associated Press)

Smashing out thirteen hits in his last five games, Roger Hornsby of the St. Louis star succeeded in widening the gap to nineteen points that separates him from his rivals in the scramble for the batting honors of the National League, as compared to eleven points a week ago. Hornsby, if he maintains his present pace, will be in no apparent danger of being nosed out of the league batting championship, and he apparently has the home run honors already tucked away.

Hornsby is batting .382, while Bigbee of Pittsburgh, his closest rival, is hitting .363. Grimes of Chicago is just a point behind Bigbee. Hornsby has bagged twenty-nine homers, with Williams of Philadelphia as his closest competitor with eighteen.

"Hack" Miller of Chicago who has shown a liking for left hand pitching, batted his way into fifth place in the list of leaders by connecting safely eight times in his last four games. Miller's performance, with the exception of Hornsby, was the outstanding of the week.

Max Carey of Pittsburgh continues to be the class of the league in base stealing with a total of thirty-six. Other leading batters for ninety or more games: Hollocher, Chicago .354; Miller, Chicago .354; Carey, Pittsburgh .350; Kelly, New York .344; Daubert, Cincinnati .341; Walker, Philadelphia .340; Johnston, Brooklyn .337; Bancroft, New York .337.

(By Norman E. Brown)

There is Romance. Aplenty in the brief career of Cletus Dixon, the former University of Chicago player who is now starring for Cedar Rapids in the Mississippi Valley League.

Dixon decided, when he was 16 that he wanted to be a ball player "like Ty Cobb." He was living in Sac City, Ia., then. His mother decided she hadn't raised her boy to be a ball player. So when Manager Ned Egan of the Waterloo club in the Mississippi Valley circuit, offered to give Dixon a chance the boy slipped out the back door. He got a chance at first base and looked promising in an exhibition game. Then his mother heard of his whereabouts and took him home "by the ear." His chosen career was halted until he completed his college course. Then he joined the Cedar Rapids team.

He's playing the outfield now and hitting well over .300. Several big league scouts have looked him over. Whether or not he has had seasoning enough for the big show is problematical but he is a comer.

Tulsa Slugger Has 27 Home Runs Upon Record For Season

Eugene Elsh, the Sioux City outfielder, awarded to the Chicago White Sox by Commissioner Landis, is giving Carl East, the Wichita slugger, a desperate battle for the batting leadership of the Western league, with only seven points separating them. East is setting the pace with .284, as a result of connecting with thirteen hits in his last six games. The averages include games of Tuesday.

Elsh, however, smashed out eleven hits in his last six starts, which shot him into second place with an average of .377. The Sioux City star also proved his worth in base stealing, going into a tie with Hemingway, a teammate, for the leadership with a total of forty-three.

Davis of Tulsa continues to top the home run hitters with twenty-seven, while Lamb, also of Tulsa, is second, with twenty-five. Other leading batters for ninety or more games: Marnush, Omaha, .368; Fisher, St. Joseph, .368; Berger, Wichita, .364; Meza, Sioux City, .363; Bennett, Tulsa, .359; Leavelle, Tulsa, .359; Stuart, Tulsa, .357; Grantham, Omaha, .354; Davis, Tulsa, .347.

DID DOUGLAS SEND LETTER TO MANN?

Leslie Mann.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24.—(Special)—Fans here, as well as in the other National League cities and all over the country, are commending Leslie Mann for his straightforward act in turning over to Manager Branch Rickey of the Cardinals the letter Phil Douglas wrote to Mann, offering to quit the Giants and go fishing if money was furnished him from some source.

Douglas' plea that "Mann crossed him" is taken lightly. Douglas says Mann agreed to tear up the letter when Douglas phoned him that he (Douglas) was sorry he wrote the letter.

Stories from New York carry Douglas' earnest statement that he was not himself when he wrote the letter to Mann. He points out that he was recovering from the effects of liquor in a sanitarium when he wrote it. But Mann's act was the only course possible.

It was considered fortunate, too for the Cardinals that the matter came to light at this time. Had the indiscretion passed unnoticed at this time only to bob up at the close of the season with the Cardinals in the world's series, possibly the incident would have assumed much more serious proportions. Regardless of what effect it would have placed a stain on whatever fame the Cardinals won.

Fans here are now recalling a rumor spread last summer that the Pittsburgh gamblers offered Douglas $15,000 to throw down the Giants. There was nothing in Douglas' deportment or pitching then to indicate that he had been influenced in any way, however. Fans here do not believe now that Douglas in his right senses, would betray McGraw or the Giant fans. But they feel as if the Giant hurler must suffer.

BILIOUS CHILDREN

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Theodor's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says: "When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the faded liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system. In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles.

Its well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words "Theodor's Black-Draught." NC-141

Reign of Jay Kirke As Champion Hitter Is Ended for a Time

(By the Associated Press)

The reign of Jay Kirke, the Louisville slugger, as batting leader of the American Association is ended—temporarily at least.

Wilbur Good of Kansas City, by driving out eleven hits in his last six games, dislodged Kirke from the front ranks. Good's batting streak gave him an average of .369, while Kirke dropped into third place with .366. Myatt of Milwaukee is second with .367. The best Kirke could do in eight games was eight hits, while Myatt bagged eight in six starts. The figures include games of Wednesday.

The positions in home run hitting and base stealing remain unchanged with "Bunny" Brief of Kansas City setting the pace for the emulators of Ruth with a total of twenty-five. Becker, also of Kansas City, is second with twenty-one. Lamar of Toledo is leading the base stealers with twenty-one, while Mathews of Milwaukee, and Baird of Indianapolis are tied for second with twenty apiece.

Other leading batters of ninety or more games: Lear, Milwaukee .357; Mathews, Milwaukee .357; Brown, Indianapolis .356; Lamar, Toledo .351; Becker, Kansas City .347; Combs, Louisville .341; Haas, St. Paul .334; Riggert, St. Paul .329; Krueger, Indianapolis .328.

MANN PASSES BUCK TO LANDIS IN LIFE CORRUPTION CHARGE

St. Louis Player Declares He Had No Talk With "Shufflin' Phil."

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24.—Leslie Mann of the St. Louis Nationals, named by "Shufflin' Phil" Douglas as the player to whom he wrote offering to desert the New York Giants, when pressed for a supplementary statement this afternoon, stated he preferred to have Commissioner Landis announce to whom the letter was sent. Mann emphatically denied, however, that he had had a telephone conversation with Douglas, as claimed by the latter.

"I prefer not to say any more, except that I never in my life had a telephone conversation with Douglas," Mann emphasized. "If Commissioner Landis cares to tell the identity of the player he can do so."

Manager Branch Rickey of the Cardinals, said he had no comment to make on the statement of Douglas. Mann has been in major league baseball since 1913 when he joined the Boston Nationals, after having been with Nebraska City, Buffalo and Seattle. Subsequently he played with the Chicago Cubs before coming to St. Louis in 1921, as a team mate of Douglas. Mann, in the winter, is assistant director of athletics at Indiana university and formerly held a similar position at Rice Institute, Houston, Texas.

Rows Her Way Across Atlantic in "Gym" of Steamship America

Dashing Oarswoman in Rowing Machine

New York There has just arrived from Europe on the steamship America a pretty American girl who is credited with a new Trans-Atlantic record. The young woman is heralded by her fellow voyagers as having practically rowed her way across the Atlantic.

Miss Rita Cummings, whose home is in Philadelphia, is the young woman to whom the latest sea honor belongs. She has ever been an ardent oarswoman and in preparation for her summer's campaign as the member of a girl's camping colony on the Fulton Chain of Lakes in the Adirondacks Miss Cummings did her training on the steamship America.

The young woman did not row a boat in the open sea. Rather she did so without danger of splashing her golden tresses or incurring danger from capsizing by rowing her hardest in the gymnasium of the big United States liner. For six hours each day during the nine days' trip from Bremen to New York Miss Cummings worked at the oars with all the effort of a varsity crewman training for the big regatta.

How many miles the girl rowed during the trip can only be roughly estimated. Passengers who watched the young woman at her training calculated that she rowed at the rate of four miles an hour and credit her with having accomplished about 220 miles during the trip.

The gymnasium of the Steamship America, among its many devices for exercising, is equipped with a rowing machine and to this Miss

Cummings applied herself religiously for six hours each day. Immediately after arising and prior to breakfast the oarswoman devoted herself to the work for a full hour. Between breakfast and lunch she negotiated two hours more of the work with another double hour at the oars before dinner. The sixth, and last hour of the day's endeavors came shortly before bedtime.

The rowing machine on the Steamship America has been greatly patronized in the past by passengers seeking to keep themselves fit during the trip, but never was the apparatus subjected to such continuous use as that given by Miss Cummings.

Miss Cummings has been fond of rowing since she was a little tot and it is her ambition to earn for herself the girl's rowing championship. She will spend the summer upon the Adirondack lakes and will participate in a number of contests. Seen aboard the ship before going ashore Miss Cummings declared that she was in perfect form.

"Rowing," declared the pretty girl, "is the best exercise in the world and women who worry about growing stout or losing their figures would do well to spend some time working oars."

The girl, credited with rowing her way across the Atlantic, skipped into the gymnasium for a farewell pull at the oars and to have her photograph taken and then nimbly sped down the gangway to meet her relatives and friends.

TINY KINGDOM STILL EXISTS

How Army of Three Maintained Independence Against Odds.

(By the Associated Press)

HONOLULU, T. H. Aug. 26.—The kingdom that "died" but never was conquered; the kingdom with the smallest standing army on record, three men; the kingdom of Nualolo, behind its walls of mountain and surf in an almost forgotten corner of the Island of Kauai, is being "rediscovered."

This ancient domain, the only part of Hawaii which King Kamehameha the Great could not bring under his scepter when he routed all other rivals in battle and united the islands, has been reopened. A rope ladder once again dangles from the Nualolo cliffs in the identical place fastened through the same holes cut in the rocks by the Hawaiian warriors a long time ago.

The kingdom of Nualolo is on the northwest coast of the Island of Kauai, at the Hawaiian precipice section which rises abruptly from the sea in almost perpendicular cliffs from 2,500 to more than 4,000 feet in height. It comprises nine valleys, three large and six small, each ending at the sea in a precipice.

There are only three practicable ways of getting into this old domain. One is by a dangerous trail upward from the ocean front, a second is by another and steeper trail over the mountains from the land side and the third and easiest, is by rope ladder from Nualolo beach and thence over a narrow winding path, cut out of the rock, where a misstep means a fall to death. The latter route has recently been reopened by placing of a new rope ladder where its predecessors hung many years ago.

When Nualolo maintained its independence in the face of the advances of the Great Kamehameha, before the days of high explosives and airplanes, three men only were needed to keep its gates. An old Hawaiian, named Ku, has given the Nualolo's simple but effective method of defense.

One guard sat at the top of the Honopu beach precipice with a pile of rocks at his side. Only one enemy at a time could climb the trail and in case of attack the guard dropped a stone on the head of each enemy as he appeared from below, or smashed his fingers with a rock as they clutched the overhanging ledge.

"At Nualolo, where the trail is up a ladder, one guard was stationed at the top of the ladder with a stone axe. As each hostile head appeared the axe came into play.

On the Kamalle trail from above on the land side, a guard with a pole waited within a niche in the cliff out of sight of the approaching enemy. When the latter came within reach along the narrow pathway the guard would give him a shove with the pole and a 2,000 foot drop did the rest."

as a tribute to their industry and engineering ability.

According to Dr. H. E. Gregory, of the Bishop Museum, Honolulu, no finer irrigation system ever has been worked out by the Hawaiians than that of the ancient valley kingdom. Every available foot of the steep vales was made productive.

Very few persons have been able to get into the old kingdom during the past 75 years, but the recent placing of the rope ladder near Nualolo beach is expected to end Nualolo's decades of isolation and reopen its historic terraces and trails once again to the foot of man.

TURKS READY TO BUY AMERICAN FARM MACHINERY

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 26.—The vital need of machine power in Turkey has been obvious and urgent as a result of the exhaustion of the available supply of animals in the long-drawn wars, is the opinion of American Consul-General G. Bie Ravndal. "Most of the draft animals have been used for cavalry and artillery purposes, and many of them to supply food for the soldiers," he continued, speaking to the representative of The Associated Press. "Consequently a demand is arising for the tractor and the plow. American tractors as well as other American-made farm machinery, possess a fine reputation in Turkey, and at present dominate the market. The Kahnemann (German), Fiat (Italian), and Renault (French) tractors are in the field, but they cannot compete successfully with American machines which are being offered. The chief desiderata are price, efficiency and simplicity, and the American tractors have been found to fill these requirements."

Similar consideration apply to other agricultural machines and to tillage instruments, for which the demand is growing in the Near East. These include reapers and binders, threshing machines, plows, harrows, cultipackers and drills.

There appears to be good ground for encouraging American manufacturers of agricultural implements and machinery to pay increasing attention to the near eastern field, Mr. Ravndal went on. In the extension of this trade it is essential to give credit to dealers in order that they may be able to carry out the practical demonstrations which are so necessary in these virgin markets, and to accommodate the farmers financially. It is also important that measures be taken to have a full supply of spare parts on hand in suitable repair shops.

The opportunities for the development of the Anatolian, Thracian and adjoining markets for agricultural machinery and implements are considered very good. The Consul-General continued, "The situation at the present time is, adversely affected by the absence of highways and railways and other means of transporting farm produce to the central markets, but this defect is certain gradually to be remedied. No duty is charged for the admittance of agricultural machinery into Turkey. As a rule, general agencies are established in Constantinople with branches in other cities."

SAPULPA, Aug. 26.—Phillip Dalopa, Italian, was shot and instantly killed at Depew, near here, by L. C. Clouett, Frisco brakeman late yesterday, after he had shot the brakeman twice when he refused to get off a freight car, according to county officers.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

The various townships are taking commendable interest in preparing for their fairs, according to reports received here. The papers published in other towns of the county state that their respective communities are very much alive to the importance of the fairs and committees have been appointed to look after the details.

Now that cotton has begun to move again people will feel better, even though it may not come in the quantities that it once did. It reminds us that the fall season is at hand and that it will soon be time to cut the winter supply of wood.

Uncle Nat Hisaw is of the opinion that cotton in this county will average about a quarter of a bale to the acre. If this estimate is correct it will mean about 10,000 bales. This is about three times the number ginned last year and a fourth as much as the year before.

Pauls Valley received its first two bales of the season Tuesday, Aug. 22. It is stated that three of the four gins of that place will be operated this season. The Pauls Valley Democrat says that some success has attended experiments in poisoning the boll weevils in Garvin county.

Showing Livestock at Fairs. By W. L. Blizzard, Professor of Animal Husbandry, Oklahoma A. and M. College. This is the time of year when extra care should be given to livestock that is to be exhibited at county and state fairs.

The showing of livestock, particularly at township and county fairs, should be encouraged.

First: It helps to improve and increase your knowledge of the kind of livestock which you are producing.

Second: It further broadens your acquaintance with your fellow livestock breeders and others interested in your particular breed.

Third: It introduces your stock to a large number of prospective beginners and future buyers.

Fourth: It secures for your stock recognition among the leading breeders of the county and state. Fifth: It is one of the best ways of gaining publicity not only through the press but in many other ways. The account of your winnings is carried beyond the community.

Sixth: It increases appreciation and interest in your stock, particularly among farm boys and girls and may be the turning point in favor of those remaining on the farm.

Seventh: Last but not least, the showing of your stock increases the income from your animals and makes the business more profitable.

In order to put this kind of a program across, it is necessary that you have the right kind of stock to begin with. It costs no more to produce and develop the right kind and for the reason the right kind of animals is the first step toward success.
